"We are very excited to welcome Agnes as the next leader of our human resources team at Protolabs," said Rob Bodor, President and CEO at Protolabs. "She has excelled at building strong company culture through employee development, DEI initiatives, and talent acquisition. We look forward to Agnes leading Protolabs' long-term strategy to continue to be a great place to work for our

2,500-plus global employees."

Semington has had a progressive career of human resources leadership positions and joins Protolabs after serving as CHRO for The Imagine Group, a commercial printing and visual communication company. Prior to The Imagine Group, she was Senior Vice President of Human Resources at Shutterfly. "I admire growing companies that not only meet their customer needs, but also the needs of their employees," Semington said. "Protolabs has fostered a company culture that has propelled it to industry leadership. I look forward to building on the strong foundation that has made Protolabs not only a great company, but a sought-after career destination."

Bodor added: "Agnes' appointment reaffirms Protolabs' commitment to excellence in human resources management. Her expertise and dedication to create an inclusive, innovative, and employee-centric workplace will undoubtedly contribute to our company's continued success and growth."
